1. Executive Summary

1.1 Context

Australian Catholic Safeguarding Ltd (ACSL) was established in 2020, to bring together the work of Catholic Professional Standards Ltd (CPSL), the Australian Catholic Centre for Professional Standards (ACCPS) and the Australian Catholic Ministry Register (ACMR). ASCL is a company limited by guarantee, owned by the Australian Catholic Bishops Conference, Catholic Religious Australia, and the Association of Ministerial Public Juridic Persons.

ACSL is committed to fostering a nationally consistent culture of safety and care throughout the Catholic Church in Australia. This includes providing a range of services to support the implementation of the National Catholic Safeguarding Standards (NCSS), a framework for the protection and care of adults at risk and children. ACSL maintains the NCSS, undertakes audits and reviews of Church entities, and publishes reports which demonstrate a Church entity's commitment to the NCSS.

ACSL's core values are leadership, integrity, and compassion. These values guide the way we work and inform cultural change within the Catholic Church and the wider community. We take our duty to care for and protect all children and adults at risk seriously and have zero tolerance for abuse of any kind.

This audit report includes the results of the assessment against the National Catholic Safeguarding Standards for Sisters of Saint Joseph of the Sacred Heart (SOSJ).

1.2 Background

The Congregation of the Sisters of Saint Joseph of the Sacred Heart was founded in Penola, South Australia in 1866 by an Australian woman, Mary MacKillop (now Saint Mary MacKillop) and an English priest, Reverend Julian Tenison Woods.

From the beginning Saint Mary and Fr. Julian encouraged its members to share the lives and the concerns of people with whom they ministered. Held in God's hospitable heart, the Sisters draw strength to respond to places of violence, fear and insecurity in our world, the places of incompleteness and limitation in ourselves and in the spirit of its Founders to continue to meet the needs of our time. This can often mean responding to the ordinary everyday occurrences in peoples' lives.

The Sisters of Saint Joseph of the Sacred Heart were different from other religious congregations living in Australia during the late nineteenth century. The Sisters lived in small groups of two or three in country areas often where there was no established Catholic Church structure.

Today there are over 600 Sisters of Saint Joseph of the Sacred Heart living in communities in Australia, Aotearoa New Zealand, Ireland, Peru, Timor-Leste and Brazil. The sisters are engaged in pastoral work as well as in professional roles which include teaching, administration, social services, law, psychology, nursing, aged care, community development, spiritual direction, adult education and support for new arrivals in Australia and New Zealand<sup>1</sup>.

The ACSL assessment of the Sisters of Saint Joseph of the Sacred Heart's implementation of the NCSS is detailed in Section 2 of this report. Recommendations for improvement, including SOSJ management responses, are included in Section 3 of this report.

The full audit report is also publicly available on the Publications and Reports page of the ACSL website.

1.3 Audit Approach

The purpose of the National Catholic Safeguarding Standards (NCSS) is to build a culture of shared responsibility for safeguarding and to ensure that policies, practices, and codes of behaviour work together to prevent, detect, and respond appropriately to potential or actual incidents of child abuse.

The audit processes we have undertaken are intended to provide reasonable assurance that safeguarding controls have been designed appropriately and are operating effectively. Therefore, this report provides a point-in-time assessment of the safeguarding practices implemented by Sisters of St Joseph and the extent to which it meets the requirements of the NCSS.

1.4 In-scope Assessment

SOSJ was assessed against Edition 1 of the National Catholic Safeguarding Standards. In the ACSL risk-based audit framework, the Sisters of Saint Joseph are eligible to undertake a limited audit.

In August 2023 ACSL completed a review of the SOSJ's NCSS Self-Assessment, which provided the Congregation with an opportunity to present their evidence of their congruency with the National Catholic Safeguarding Standards. Site visits were conducted from October 15 to 20, 2023. Members located in Northern Territory, Queensland, Victoria and Western Australia were also interviewed during the site visit. This report was completed in December 2023.

The audit scope included:

- Audit activities at the administrative centre.
- Interviews, observations, and enquiry with the SOSJ leadership, including their Safeguarding and Professional Standards Teams and relevant ministerial personnel.
- A review of key safeguarding documents, policies and procedures.
- Assessment of the design and testing of the operation of safeguarding controls implemented by the SOSJ.
- Site visits to:
  - o Congregational Administration Centre in North Sydney, NSW
  - Regional Office, Kensington, SA

2. Overall audit findings

ACSL's assessment indicates that the Congregation of the Sisters of Saint Joseph has embedded a culture of safeguarding within its operations.

ACSL assessment of the implementation of NCSS Indicators by a Church Authority has been determined using a four-point maturity scale<sup>2</sup>.

Our assessment indicates that SOSJ has fully implemented and substantially progressed in the implementation of 85 (100%) of the relevant indicators to their ministries<sup>3</sup>. Assessment for each maturity scale is as follows:

- 82 (97%) indicators are developed and embedded
- 3 (3%) indicators are substantially progressed.

The key findings from the audit are summarised below.

NCSS Standard 1 – Committed leadership, governance and culture

- SOSJ have a dedicated (part-time) Safeguarding Co-ordinator focused on safeguarding and a leadership team which is responsible for overseeing the implementation and monitoring of compliance with the NCSS.
- There is sufficient time available for the Co-ordinator to support the Congregation to implement, support and monitor their safeguarding framework. The Co-ordinator works closely with the Manager of Professional Standards.
- A comprehensive suite of safeguarding materials and guidance has been developed and provided to members, personnel and ministries. This includes a detailed Safeguarding Policy, Commitment Statement and Safeguarding Code of Conduct.
- The Safeguarding Co-ordinator provides support and direction through ongoing visits, formation, and regular phone and electronic communication.
- The Congregation has a comprehensive risk management framework and a risk assessment has been completed for key congregational activities.
- ACSL noted that one ministry has indirect contact with children and, that additional risk management strategies could be employed.
- An updated risk assessment has now been completed.

NCSS Standard 5 – Robust human resource management

- SOSJ has comprehensive recruitment policies and procedures that outline safeguarding requirements in its advertising, vetting and screening of personnel. ACSL commends the sample interview and referee questions which have been developed as part of the screening process for suitably qualified personnel.
- Formal performance reviews are conducted for personnel, and the Congregation state that knowledge of safeguarding policies is assessed as part of this review.
- ACSL suggest the form used in performance reviews provide a specific reference to safeguarding.
- The requirement for personnel to undertake professional/pastoral supervision is implemented by SOSJ.

- Background checks are sought prior to personnel engaging in ministry and all personnel are provided with a safeguarding induction as part of their orientation. WWCC or equivalents are held centrally.
- Leaders have attended the NCSS Introduction Session for Leaders training.
- The SOSJ very occasionally receives enquires from women interested in joining their Congregation. Some of the communication is lengthy and it would be useful for the Congregation to design an "Enquiry" matrix which could assist in determining how to proceed with the enquiry.
- Psychological screening is used to inform decision-making on accepting candidates for initial formation. ACSL recommends that prior to final profession that candidates undertake a final psychological assessment.
- Candidates participate in required supervision processes.
- Formation is provided to all candidates in formation on safeguarding.

NCSS Standard 6 – Effective complaints management

- ACSL focuses on reviewing current complaint management practices, including policies and procedures in place to prevent, detect, report and respond to all incidents and complaints, and the associated training, awareness and education available for all personnel.
- The Manager of Professional Standards is responsible for investigating and managing complaints and works closely with the Leader and relevant peers, as well as with an external panel of senior and experienced legal practitioners.
- The SOSJ Safeguarding Policy contains comprehensive complaints handling procedures. Ministries have been provided with a variety of materials which provide greater detail and information to personnel, and the general community on the processes for reporting, investigating, and managing complaints.
- Audit procedures indicate that complaints handling procedures are operating effectively.
- The Code of Conduct addresses conflict of interests and the provision of pastoral support to people in the complaint process is addressed in the process for investigating and managing complaints. The process in underpinned by principles of trauma informed care.
- We note the requirement to maintain safeguarding records for a minimum of 50 years is documented and appropriately implemented in both the Safeguarding Complaints Handling Policy and Reporting Procedure and the Safeguarding Information Sharing and Record Keeping Policy.

NCSS Standard 7 – Ongoing education and training

- Interviews with Sisters and personnel indicate a strong understanding of the requirements for child safeguarding, including knowledge of the appropriate response should a complaint or concern be raised.
- The Congregation has provided extensive forms of safeguarding training to personnel with records of attendance appropriately kept.
- Training meets all the requirements of the NCSS.

NCSS Standard 8 – Safe physical and online environments

- The SOSJ's Use of Information Technology Policy outlines its expectations around online activity. Online risks are well understood and included in risk assessments for ministry activities where required. The Congregation also have a strict policy on consent for the use of images for children and adults.
- Filtering is in place to block inappropriate online activity for technological devices which are networked with the IT system.

SOSJ has a hire agreement template for hiring out any premise to third parties, which contains the appropriate safeguarding clauses. The Congregation could use these lease arrangements to publicise their safeguarding commitment statement and provide information about how someone can make a complaint, in easy-to-read language.

NCSS Standard 9 – Continuous improvement

• SOSJ has a formal Safeguarding Implementation Plan, including self-audit and monitoring processes, which will be updated to include the actions arising from the ACSL audit.

NCSS Standard 10 – Policies and procedures support child safety

• Key policies and procedures relating to safeguarding requirements are in place and operating effectively.

Clericalist/ism	means an attitude toward clergy/religious characterised by an excessive deference and an assumption of their moral superiority. Pope Francis has said of clericalism that it occurs when "clerics feel they are superior, [and when] they are far from the people." He goes on to say that clericalism can be "fostered by priests themselves or by lay persons". When fostered by priests it may be demonstrated in an attitude where clerics see themselves as self-sufficient, superior to and separate from accountabilities of the world beyond the Church. When fostered by lay people it may be demonstrated by thinking that their contributions to the life of the Church are second-rate, or that in all things, surely 'Father knows best'.

	The features of clericalism are not restricted to the ordained (clergy and religious) nor to the Church alone. Abuse of an individual's function, role or power could be considered clericalist and could be exemplified through other attitudes such as not allowing criticism, being didactic rather than dialogical and being controlling rather than caring. It exists in hierarchical institutions such as academia, legal and medical establishments, the police and the military.

Ministerial PJP	means a public juridic person established by a religious institute which provides sponsorship and lay leadership for ministries of the religious institute, to ensure their continuation as works of the Catholic Church. The establishing authority for these entities is varied – some ministerial PJPs have been established by the Holy See through the Congregation for Institutes of Consecrated Life and Societies of Apostolic Life and are known as PJPs of pontifical right, others have been authorised by diocesan or provincial bishops. Canon law defines a public juridic person (PJP) as 'an aggregate of persons or things constituted by the competent ecclesial authority to fulfil a proper function given them in view of the common good' [Can. 114 §1].
Ministry	means any activity within, or delivered by, an entity that is designed to carry out the good works of the Catholic Church.

Supervision is a professional activity in which personnel are engaged regardless of experience or qualification. Supervision assists personnel in their accountabilities for professional standards (including in relation to maintenance of professional boundaries), defined competencies for their role and understanding and implementation of organisational policy and procedures. For clerics and religious, professional/pastoral supervision assists in the maintenance of boundaries of the pastoral relationship and enhances the quality of their ministry. A cleric/ religious' commitment to conscious and critical reflection on their ministry and ministry experiences is recognised as being important for the wellbeing of the cleric/religious, the people with whom they exercise ministry, the wider Church and the community.

Protective behaviours program	means an age-appropriate structured education program to equip children and young people with the skills and knowledge to enhance their personal safety.
Psychological abuse	refer to 'child abuse'.
Religious Institute	means an entity within the Catholic Church whose members commit themselves through religious vows to lead a life of poverty, chastity and obedience. Societies of apostolic life resemble religious institutes in that their members also live a life in common. They do not take religious vows but live out the apostolic purpose of the group. In these Standards, the term 'religious institutes' is used to include religious institutes, societies of apostolic life and secular institutes.
Respondent	means a person against whom a complaint is made.
Safeguarding	means measures to protect the safety, human rights and well-being of individuals, which allow people – in this context children – to live free from abuse, harm and neglect.

For example, groups hiring Church facilities for private or public use (for example birthday parties, men's sheds, exercise groups), companies contracted to provide design and print work for an entity, and consultants.
Working with children check	is a generic term used in the Standards to denote the statutory screening requirement for people who work or volunteer in child-related work. There is no single national framework setting out requirements for 'working with children' checks. Each state or territory in Australia has its own name, procedures and differences in scope regarding what this type of check entails. They are one part of a Church entity's recruitment, selection and screening processes.
